New Mexico School for the Arts' Creative Writing and Literature Department is seeking a part-time Instructor effective January 2, 2025.

New Mexico School for the Arts (NMSA) is New Mexico's only public, statewide charter high school that serves young artists with a rigorous, award-winning pre-professional arts and academics program. The teaching course load is 3 courses Monday – Friday.

This Instructor works closely with the Department Chair and other Creative Writing and Literature Faculty in crafting and delivering a well-rounded, 4-year college preparatory foundation in creative writing.

NMSA seeks passionate educators who are eager to: teach within and instill in students the growth mindset, provide far-reaching advocacy for students, participate in data-driven instructional practices, and collaborate with faculty, administration, and staff to support a path to success for all students, regardless of educational background.

The Creative Writing and Literature Department encourages students to cultivate their artistic intuition, style, and voice through exercises, prompts, radical revision, and reflection. As their own first readers, students learn to study their writing habits, notice and expand on their ideas, and make more purposeful choices on the page.

We will accept applications until the position is filled. NMSA-Art Institute is an equal opportunity employer. We strive to create an inclusive and equitable workplace. We encourage applications from people of all backgrounds..
